Multiple sclerosis (MS) is the most common neurological disorder diagnosed in young adults. Many experts estimate that 2.5 million people worldwide have MS. Nearly one million individuals are living with MS in the United States. This new prevalence figure was published in 2019 and is more than double the previous estimate of 400,000 affected people in the United States.

MS is an autoimmune disease of the central nervous system, affecting the protective covering (myelin) that surrounds the nerves of the brain and spinal cord. The nerves (axons) may also become damaged. MS is not contagious and researchers continue to seek a cause and a cure.

Individuals with MS may experience one or more of a variety of symptoms, such as visual changes, fatigue, numbness, bladder and bowel problems, depression, cognitive issues, and changes in mobility. Initially, most individuals with MS experience periods of symptom flare-ups (also referred to as relapses or exacerbations), followed by periods of remission. A smaller population of individuals begin with a progressive form of MS, characterized by a slow but steady accumulation of symptoms. However, many of those who initially experience relapses and remissions, if not taking a disease-modifying therapy (DMT) for MS, will eventually advance to a progressive form of MS as well.

As of the end of 2019, more than 20 DMTs have been approved by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for the long-term treatment of relapsing forms of MS. Some of the more recently approved DMTs also treat certain types of progressive MS, which is a tremendous advance in the treatment of the disease. Research continues into the development of additional DMTs for the long-term treatment of MS.

The Multiple Sclerosis Association of America (MSAA) was founded in 1970 and is a leading resource for the entire MS community, improving lives today through vital services and support. MSAA provides free, ongoing support and direct services to individuals with MS, their families, and their care partners. Overseeing MSAA’s activities is a national Board of Directors comprised of accomplished professionals from across the country, volunteering their time for MSAA. Providing medical consultation is MSAA’s Chief Medical Officer who reviews all of MSAA’s medical information, and MSAA’s Healthcare Advisory Council, comprised of top healthcare professionals who volunteer their time to MSAA.

MSAA meets all criteria of the Better Business Bureau (BBB) Wise Giving Alliance and is in the exclusive group of national charities that are awarded the BBB Accredited Charity Seal. We are also a long-standing member of America’s Charities and have achieved Platinum Level status with GuideStar. Additionally, MSAA is a founding member of the Multiple Sclerosis Coalition (MSC), an affiliation of independent MS organizations dedicated to the enhancement of the quality of life for all those affected by MS.

“I want to thank you for the equipment that you have provided to me. It is greatly appreciated. I found out about MSAA from a magazine in my doctor’s office. Since that time, I have found out what a wonderful, informative, and caring organization you are. I only wish that I had known about the MSAA earlier. Thanks again for your generosity.”

Executive Message

Reaching New Milestones

The theme of this year’s annual report is “Reaching New Milestones” as we work to further our mission of Improving Lives Today! We are proud of these important achievements that ultimately provide greater support to the MS community. To follow are some of the highlights from the 2018-2019 fiscal year.

One of the most exciting advances is the approval of our new five-year strategic plan. The creation of this plan, which will serve as a roadmap for increasing our service to the MS community, incorporated feedback from our staff, Board of Directors, Healthcare Advisory Council, and national needs assessment survey results. The overall vision of this plan aims to strengthen the impact of our vital signature programs. It also aims to increase awareness – both within and outside of the MS community – of how MSAA can help and actively engage everyone affected by MS in identifying and addressing their ever-changing and critical needs.

Also during this fiscal year, we were very happy to note that our “Navigating MS” global shared decision-making initiative moved into phase two. This part of the project compiled and reviewed survey feedback from the United States, Europe, and Australia. We asked healthcare providers, nurses, and patients to discuss their experiences in having honest and open conversations about the progression of multiple sclerosis – conversations that are occurring between patients and healthcare providers.

The next steps will be focused on creating tools to help foster more substantive, collaborative, and informed conversations about treatment decisions. The Navigating MS project will have a profound impact on conversations here in the United States and across the globe. MSAA is proud to be a proactive leader in the MS community in focusing on the importance of shared decision making.

Additional accomplishments during the 2018-2019 fiscal year included the second anniversary of My MSAA Community in August 2018. By the end of the fiscal year, more than 4,000 individuals with MS, their family members, and their care partners were actively participating in this vital peer-to-peer online forum – and this number continues to grow.

Also of great importance, the first edition of our new article series, “What’s New in MS Research,” was published in September 2018. Posted on MSAA’s website and distributed via email every other month to more than 120,000 recipients, this informative article series features highlights from national and international MS medical conferences as well as breaking news on research findings and new FDA drug approvals.

This article series joins the ranks of our other important written works during the fiscal year. These include two issues of our award-winning national magazine, The Motivator, as well as our annual MS Research Update, and a new booklet, Employment and MS: The Challenges and Opportunities.

During MS Awareness Month in March 2019, which focused on MS and the family, MSAA debuted its podcasts. These inaugural podcasts featured topics on relationships and care-partner needs. Later podcasts in June 2019 covered the topics of nutrition in MS and exploring diversity in MS.

Similar to our written works, these podcasts join other digital programs, including our award-winning videos, webinars, and our “Ask Me Anything” (AMA) online Q&A sessions with a medical expert. MSAA also launched its new video series, “Understanding Multiple Sclerosis,” consisting of 12 videos featuring Dr. Michelle Fabian.

In addition to all of the informational and educational materials noted above, as described on pages 6 through 9 of this annual report, all of MSAA’s programs and services continued to serve several thousands of individuals with MS and reached new milestones during this fiscal year. MSAA’s programs and services are free of charge and Improve Lives Today by providing: vitally needed equipment products; urgent MRI funding; compassionate and supportive Helpline consultation; in-person educational programs; important tools such as My MS Manager, MSAA’s mobile app; online information through MSAA’s comprehensive website; and much more! Please be sure to also note our awards received during the year, proudly described on page 10.

To help support MSAA’s vital programs and services, we participated in and hosted many important fundraising events throughout the year. Among others, these included several endurance events, golf tournaments, MSAA’s “Women of Action” event, and most notably, MSAA’s 6th Annual “Improving Lives Benefit” held during MS Awareness Month in March.

This 2018-2019 fiscal year marks the completion of our 49th year of service to the MS community. In the upcoming 2019-2020 fiscal year, we will be reaching a milestone of 50 years of providing free, life-changing programs to individuals affected by MS. As always, we are eternally grateful to our generous supporters who make all of our work possible. Without them, we could not achieve our vital mission of Improving Lives Today!

Journey to the Marine Corps Marathon
Kari Albrecht Earll and her husband, Mike, decided to race alongside members of Team MSAA in support of the MS community for the 43rd Annual Marine Corps Marathon in October 2018. Kari was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis in 2013 — however, this did not stop her from completing her first full marathon the following year. To help Kari reach her goal of completing a half marathon in every state while supporting a cause she cares about, Kari joined Team MSAA. “When I was diagnosed, I had no idea what MS really was,” said Kari. “I thought people with MS were all in wheelchairs and not able to walk. Here I am still running… MS does not define who I am, it is just something that I manage… I have days that are not as great, but with the support of my husband and my daughters I keep pushing on.” Prior to the race, Kari and Mike had already raised more than $1,500 for MSAA’s free programs and services!

13.1 Miles for the MS Community
Runner Taylor Tenca is seen here in advance of her very first half-marathon as a part of Team MSAA. Raising awareness for MS is a cause that is close to Taylor’s heart, which is why she’s training hard to cross the finish line at the Rock ‘n’ Roll Half Marathon in Chicago while fundraising for MSAA’s free programs and services. “My strategy is to not get burned out too early into training. Slow and steady training will get me better results,” said Taylor. “I am running with a friend of mine – we hope to keep each other on track and motivate each other to run before or after work, five days a week.” Taylor’s original fundraising goal for her half-marathon journey was $500, but even before her race in July 2019 began, Taylor had raised more than $1,000 with the help of her friends and family!
Nana's Cookies Bake Sales
For 12 years, Nana’s Cookies Bake Sale has supported MSAA’s mission to improve lives, thanks to the dedication of Alyssa Lewanowicz and her family! At age nine, Alyssa lost her great-grandmother due to complications from multiple sclerosis. With the help of her mother, Lynne Goldberg, and her grandmother, Linda Somers, Alyssa and her family found a way to give back to the MS community with an annual bake sale in memory of her “Nana.” In the summer of 2018, Alyssa and her family raised more than $3,000 dollars at their delicious bake sale!

Swim for MS
Swim for MS is MSAA’s signature fundraiser, with events being held all across the country! People of all ages and skill levels are swimming to raise awareness about MS while recruiting online donations to help the MS community. Individuals may create their own Swim for MS fundraising event at home or at the swim club, individually or as part of a team, and set any type of goal – from swimming laps or a specific distance… to cannonball-jumping contests, birthday parties, and college swim-team competitions! This is why we say, “Any Pool, Any Time!”

Getting started is as easy as 1-2-3! Please visit SwimForMS.org.

Create Your Own Event
Each year, individuals and groups turn their passions and interests into unique fundraisers to raise thousands of dollars for MSAA. Simple ideas could include a bake sale, “Dress-Down Day” at the office, a coin toss, a bingo party, “Strike MS” bowling competition, or joining Team MSAA in various endurance events. Other exciting ideas include a car wash, a polar plunge, or a sporting event such as a golf, soccer, tennis, or basketball tournament.

If interested in creating your own fundraisers, please visit support.mymsaa.org/create or email us at events@mymsaa.org. To follow are just a few examples of inspirational individuals and groups who have gone above and beyond to improve the lives of those affected by MS.

Other Events
• 1A Auto held their annual Summer Roundup Charity Car Show in Massachusetts, to showcase all makes and models of vehicles and motorcycles. The event was a fun time for all, with a DJ, food, yard games, vendors & raffles. Overall 1A Auto raised $2,500 for MSAA!

• Great Southern Bank associates in Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Arkansas, and Kansas held their Community Matters Casual Day to benefit MSAA. Their casual day fundraiser raised $1,814 for MSAA.

• RE/MAX in Dedham, MA held their Annual Spring Client Appreciation Fundraiser and raised $1,500 for MSAA.

• The City of Durham Inspection Department in North Carolina raised $1,765 as part of their “7 Stars employee-giving campaign.”

• Bobby O’Brien’s Multiple Sclerosis Athletic Department held their annual MS Golf Challenge in June raising $13,687 for MSAA! Bobby himself was diagnosed with MS in 2007 and wanted to do something to support an MS organization, so each year they host their annual MS Golf Challenge in Massachusetts. The event includes a great day of golfing with friends and family, raffles, and much more!

Making Waves with Swim for MS
Swim for MS participant Lee Estep has always loved swimming. She was on the swim team in college and even taught and worked as a Waterfront Director during her time in school. Lee was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis in 2016 – as a result, she started swimming regularly to help manage her MS symptoms – she even swam in the ocean when she was at the Jersey Shore on vacation last summer! Lee is so appreciative of all the support she received from MSAA, especially the cooling vest that allowed her to enjoy the outdoors during the warmer weather. “I was thrilled with the opportunity to be able to give back by asking close friends and family members to support my Swim for MS fundraiser,” said Lee. In 2018, Lee was able to swim on a regular basis and raise more than $500 in support of MSAA’s free programs and services!
