

My MS Workbook

My MS Workbook

As a person living with multiple sclerosis (PLwMS) you can have an active role to play in decisions about how your MS is treated through ongoing discussions with your healthcare provider (HCP). You can advocate for yourself about your care in collaborative discussions with your HCP. Sharing your lived experience, symptoms, and side effects as well as your expectations and concerns will help you stay in control with your MS.

The purpose of this workbook is to help you and your care partner to prepare for MS management discussions with your HCP in advance of your next appointment. Alternatively, you can also complete this workbook on your own and use it for self-reflection to organize your thoughts in advance of your next HCP appointment.

Co-developed by Novartis, the Multiple Sclerosis Association of America (MSAA), and an expert steering committee comprised of Prof Alice Laroni, Amanda Montague, Dr Amy Sullivan, Anita Williams, Colleen Harris, George Pepper, Guillaume Molinier, Karen Foster, Pieter Van Galen and Dr Sharon Stoll.

A quick guide for using My MS Workbook

Reflect on and complete this workbook on your own at home or with your care partner.

You may find that not all topics in the workbook apply to you at this time. Complete only the sections that are relevant to you and your experience.

Summarize key points and questions to raise with your HCP at your next appointment.

Use the summary page at the end of the workbook entries as a guide to discuss your expectations. This information can assist you and your HCP in designing your care plan together. It can also help you feel comfortable to share any concerns you would like to discuss with your HCP to help you make the best decisions for yourself.

Patient advocacy groups can often help you navigate questions or information about accessing treatment. We recommend contacting your local patient advocacy group for further support.

Reflections summary

Now that you have thought about all of these aspects of your MS management, you may be more comfortable making decisions and having discussions with your HCP about your preferences. Use the space below to summarize the most important factors to you when it comes to your MS management and reflect on the key things you want to discuss with your HCP at your next appointment.

My biggest expectation for my MS management is...

My biggest concern around my MS management is...

Key questions I want to discuss with my HCP are... (e.g. How do I know if an MS treatment is working for me? What potential lifestyle changes could I expect from this treatment?)

Now that you have completed this workbook and reflected on your priorities, we hope that you feel prepared to have more collaborative discussions with your HCP. The notes you made in the “Reflections Summary” section can be helpful talking points for you to start the conversation with your HCP about managing your MS.

We recommend that you revisit the workbook ahead of each consultation to organize your thoughts and questions and that you want to raise with your HCP. This can help you keep track of how your priorities change with time.
